

SideMask Parameters Schema

Overview

The SideMask class represents a rectangular flat surface, named a side, that can obstruct solar radiation. This document provides a comprehensive explanation of all parameters and their geometric relationships.

First of all, the side is referred by the position of the lower central point of the side:

