Technical Director Briefing

We have 277.93 km with 3813.0 meters of climbing on the menu. It's a leg-breaking, rolling parcours that perfectly favors a strong breakaway or late puncheur attacks. Expect conditions around 16.8C with winds at 22.0 km/h. Wind speeds are absolutely high enough to split the peloton. Stay vigilant and ride at the front to avoid echelon traps! It all comes down to a late, explosive finale. The decisive move will likely happen on the steep technical descent at km 277.88, just 0.1 km from the line. It kicks up to -25.0%. Be perfectly positioned before this point. If you have the legs, this is where you commit. The wind is the real enemy today. Stay tucked in and never be the first to break the line. Let's go execute.
